STATEMENT OF VICTIM

With writing this I don't really know where to start. I am miserable and numb. I've watched my whole life fall apart. My self-confidence and self-respect as well as my inner peace is deteriorating day by day. I feel empty. Physically empty, like there are no organs nor bones in my body. So many wonderful people are here to help me and guide me down a path of success and happiness but I can't seem to follow. I try, I try so hard. I have been so determined to get better and cope with what happened. I've been to numerous inpatient programs at mental facilities as well as a residential treatment facility center for close to a year. I've had numerous psychiatrists prescribe me different medicines for the mental suffering I am experiencing. I've been diagnosed with severe depression disorder and severe anxiety disorder. I've tried so many therapists. Talking about it only seems to make it worse. My heart hurts and I can't breathe most days.

I don't understand why we live in a world where our most trusted are the ones to turn and deceive you, to leave you hurt and hopeless. I have lost all faith in my county's Sheriff's Department as well as the judicial system which is only giving this defendant a minimal sentence. You have taken a small amount of time away from Kimball's sanity and peace while his criminal conduct towards me has caused horrific consequences to me, taking every last piece of sanity, comfort, happiness and well-being I had left. I have lost all faith in our father above. I don't know if there is a God anymore or heaven and hell. I can't put how I feel in words. They would all come out as a big frustrated scream.

I'm not looking for sympathy. I'm not looking for sad, sobbing faces. I'm not asking for anything but what is right. The fact that he is going to get out of jail shortly after his sentencing is a complete shock to me. The L.A. Sheriff promoted this police officer to the Crime Sex Unit after they had received numerous complaints against him for sexual harassment. The legal system is sending this proven rapist to jail for a mere few years to just get out and do it again.

My father and mother have stuck by my side through everything and given more than 100%. They have helped me before they helped themselves. When they didn't have anything they would always give to me. They have been through so much being my parents because of this situation. I don't want any other human being to have to feel what I felt, nor any family.
