Statement of Reg Green

We were very impressed by Mr. Goldberg's down to earth question, "What normal person would behave like this?" and certainly, it was grotesque. In a long and varied life, I have never seen anything like this.

Some people on the jury felt that the compensatory damages were enough, others thought that the punishment had to be much more severe in order to deter others.

I don't think any of us had a doubt about the seriousness of Mr. David's behavior and felt that he had to pay a commensurate penalty.

I knew nothing about Mr. David before the trial. In fact, for the first couple of hours, I thought his name was "affidavit," but it became clear to me that he was a force that was almost impossible to contain.
